Paymaster General's Report—Military Changes—Grant's Cabinet—Retiring Board—Reduction of the Public Debt—Financial Statement—Internal Revenue Appointments—Reception of General Grant—New Branch Mint—The Central Pacific Railroad, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. 1868.

PAYMASTER GENERAL'S REPORT.

The report of the Paymaster General shows an expenditure for the fiscal year now closed, of nearly sixty-one millions. Two and a quarter millions have been spent for reconstruction, and a half million is left—enough, the Paymaster General thinks, to finish the work. No further appropriations need be made by Congress. There are now less than eight thousand claims for bounties unsatisfied.

MILITARY ASSIGNMENT.

President Johnson has assigned General Wallace to command this department, vice General Canby ordered to relieve General Reynolds in Texas. Gen. Canby is empowered to act as he thinks best under the reconstruction acts of Congress.

RETIRING BOARD.

The following Board to retire disabled officers has been ordered to convene at St. Louis on the 16th inst. or as soon after as practicable; Brevet Brigadier General L. P. Graham, Colonel of the 4th Cavalry; L. V. P. Reese, Colonel of the 13th Infantry; Henry W. Wessels, Lieutenant of the 18th Infantry; C. McDougal, Assistant Medical Surgeon, Brevet Colonel E. H. Abodie, Surgeon.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

By the fourth section of the act of June 30, 1864, the Secretary of the Treasury was authorized to receive temporary deposits or loans to the United States to the extent of one hundred and fifty million dollars, for not less than thirty days, at six per cent. interest, and to meet sudden calls was authorized to keep a reserve of fifty millions of legal tenders. These deposits and loans having been paid, the Secretary has no reserve which he can use for any purpose waatever, excepting a small remaining sum, less than a third of a million. This fact is stated, because the contrary has heretofore prevailed.

APPOINTMENT OF INTERNAL REVENUE OFFICERS.

Secretary M'Culloch made the following appointments of Internal Revenue officers to-day:

Storekeepers—Clay H. Deckert, W. H. Schoeffer, John E. Keider and Clifton Lowe, Third district, Ohio; Patrick Dunlea, Fifth district, Illinois; John Tyrmiers, J. H. Hogan, C. A. Corbett, Hugh Watson, Thomas Wilkinson, John S. Matthews and John Young, First district, Missouri; Harvey George, Fifth district, Missouri.

Guagers—Gideon Cornell, Arizona; Geo. Gold, First district, New Mexico; James Steel, Third district, Ohio.

Tobacco Inspector—F. R. Miller, Nineteenth district, Penna.

APPOINTMENTS RECOMMEDED.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenne has recommended to the Secretary of the Treasury for appointment Charles Hedges, Supervisor of Internal Revenue for the Northern district of Ohio, and John M. Commons for Indiana.

WILL REJOIN HIS REGIMENT.

General Reynolds, on being relieved by General Canby of the command of the military district and department of Texas, will resume command of his regiment, the twenty-sixth infantry, now stationed at Austin, his headquarters.

CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD.

The President has accepted the twenty mile section of the Central Pacific Railroad, and a telegraph line has just been completed, ending with the seven hundred and thirtieth mile east of the initial point.

NEW BRANCH MINT.

Plans have been prepared for the new branch Mint at San Francisco, and orders given to commence quarrying stone at Angel Island.

SECRETARY M'CULLOCH WILL NOT RESIGN.

There is no truth in the report that Secretary McCulloch has received an intimation that his resignation would be acceptable to the President, nor has he any intention of resigning under this administration.

RECEPTION OF GEN. GRANT.

Delegates from various associations met this evening at the Republican headquarters for the purpose of taking mesures for the reception of Gen. Grant on his return to Washington.

POLITICAL GUESS-WORK.

There is very little doubt that Senator Morgan will be made Secretary of the Treasury under Grant, and that economy will be the rule of his administration.

MONTGOMERY BLAIR'S PREDICTION.

Montgomery Blair says that Grant will go back on the Radicals, and that he will prove as conservative as Andrew Johnson.

PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT.

The public debt statement, which will be issued to-morrow, will show a reduction of nearly six million dollars.

PERSONAL.

General Schofield has gone to West Point.

General Grant has declined the public reception that was being gotten up here.

CANADA.

Extradition Case—Red River Relief Fund.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TORONTO, November 5.—A writ of habeas corpus was granted to-day in the express robbery tradition case. The prisoners, Morton and Thompson, will be brought here on Saturday and the case argued in the Chambers next week.

A dispatch from Halifax says the people of that city have subscribed two thousand dollars towards the Red River Relief Fund, and that the United State Government has granted one thousand dollars towards the same object.

Injunction Against Mayor Alden.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

NASHVILLE, November 5.—Chancellor Shackelford rendered a decision in the injunction case. He enjoined Mayor Alden, four Aldermen and three Councilmen from holding their offices or receiving pay. Mayor Alden being in office last year holds over until the case is finally decided by the Supreme Court, to which an appeal has been taken.

THE ELECTION.

ADDITIONAL RETURNS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, November 5.—Corrected returns of the vote of the city makes the Republican majority 2,518.

DELAWARE.

PHILADELPHIA, November 5.—Delaware is Democratic by 2,000 majority, and elects B. T. Briggs to Congress.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE, November 5.—Rhode Island complete gives Grant 12,993; Seymour 6,548. Dixon's majority for Congress in the western district is 1,556.

ARKANSAS.

A dispatch from Helena, Arkansas, to the agent of the Western Associated Press, says that county gives 2,000 Republican majority, and the Democrats concede the election of Logan H. Roots, Republican candidate, over Cameron, Democrat.

ALABAMA.

MONTGOMERY, November 5.—No official returns have yet been received of the election in the State. The registration and vote in the negro counties were unusually full.

The Legislature is still without a quorum.

NEBRASKA, NEVADA, OREGON AND CALIFORNIA.

PHILADELPHIA, November 5.—A special from Omaha to the Ledger says that Nebraska, Nevada, Oregon and California have all been carried by the Republicans.

NEW JERSEY.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—New Jersey has gone Democratic. The only Republican Congressman elected is Judge Moore, in the First District. John Hill, in the Fourth, has 100majority and may be elected. The Legislature may elect John P. Stockton to the United States Senate in place of Mr. Frelinghuysen.

GEORGIA.

AUGUSTA, Ga., November 5.—The official count received from twenty counties in Georgia give 9,373 for Seymour. Seymour's majority in the State is estimated at 25,000.

AUGUSTA, GA., November 5.—Returns from forty-five counties show a Democratic majority of 24 000, with eighty-seven counties yet to hear from. The Democrats claim the State by over 40,000.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

CHARLESTON, November 5.—The election returns come in very slow. The upper portions of the State give a large Democratic majority. The middle portions are very close. No returns are yet received from Sea Island, where the Republicans are very strong. The Democrats claim two Congressmen in the upper counties. The Republicans claim the State, but by a reduced majority. The full vote is not yet returned.

MISSOURI.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 5.—2:30 P. M.—The latest returns from Missouri gives Grant about 20,000 majority. There is nothing from Tennessee.

ST. LOUIS, November 5.—The Democrat says that thirty-four counties show a Radical gain of 1,660 upon the vote of 1866, when the Radical State majority was over 20,000. It claims that if other parts of the State show like results Grant's majority will be over 25,000 majority.

NORTH CAROLINA.

WILMINGTON, November 5.—The returns thus far show Democratic gains in nearly all the counties, but it is not thought the gains are sufficient to overcome the former Radical majority of 20,000.

Shober, Conservative, is certainly elected to Congress from the Sixth district.

Partial returns from the Seventh district indicate the election of Durham, Conservative.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, November 5.—Returns from a few country parishes have been received. In some the disparity in the Democratic and Republican vote is as great as in this city. St. James, St. Charles, St. John, Concordia, West Baton Rouge and Iberville parishes, and Algiers, opposite New Orleans, give Republican majorities. Claiborne parish, with 1,300 white votes on the old registry, give 2,900 Democratic majority. St. Helena parish, with the same disparity in the registry of whites, gives over 1,000 Democratic majority. The corrected Democratic majority in this city is 23,600. The entire Democratic Congressional delegation is elected. The Democratic majority in the State will not be far from 30,000.

TENNESSEE.

MEMPHIS, November 5.—The Registrar here has thrown out the polls in the Third, Eighth and Ninth civil districts for informalities, and the entire county of Fayette for the same cause. The full official vote of the district has not yet been received, but Leftwich, Democratic candidate for Congress, is undoubtedly elected by from three to five hundred, unless other polls are thrown out.

NASHVILLE, November 5.—Knox county gives Grant 2,471 majority. Grant's majority in Blount county is 1,500. McMinn gives 1,000 for Grant and 1,200 for Maynard. Bradley gives 825 for Grant. Maynard is re-elected. Marshall gives Seymour 700 majority, a Democratic gain of 1,180. This, with the gains in Giles, Coffee, Franklin, Rutherford and Bedford, render the election of Sheafe, Democrat, to Congress nearly certain.

HAVANA.

Revolution in Cuba—Government Troops Successful.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, November 5.—Official accounts of the recent encounters by the Government troops with the revolutionists are favorable to the Government. Several engagements are reported officially, in all of which the troops were successful. The revolutionists are arriving at the military headquarters and submitting to the Government.

Col. Guiros reports that the engagement with the insurrectionists near the town of Baire lasted an hour and three-quarters, during which time the revolutionists defended themselves obstinately, attacking the troops with machetes. The city is full of rumors, which generally prove inventions.

Oil Tank Explosion.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, November 5.—A tank in George Chilliton's Soap and Candle Manufactory, corner John and Findlay streets, exploded yesteaday afternoon, and nearly destroyed the building. Two persons were injured. The loss is about $25,000. No insurance.

NEW YORK CITY.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, November 5, 1868.

POLITICAL SPECULATIONS.

If the Republicans have a majority in the Legislature, as is generally believed, John A. Griswold will be the next United States Senator from this State in place of Senator Morgan. The Democrats have determined to send Seymour to the Senate in case they have a majority in the Legislature.

ELECTION FOR MAYOR.

The election for Mayor of this city, to take Hoffman's place, will occur next month. There are quite a number of candidates among the Democrats.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMER OCEAN QUEEN.

The steamer Ocean Queen from Aspinwall on the 28th ult., has arrived. A battle had taken place in the department of Las Santos between the forces of General Correroso, President of the State of Panama, three hundred strong, and one hundred Conservatives, under Veldere. The latter was routed with nine killed and two wounded. Correroso had proceeded to Chiriquo to put down the rising there. Captain Little of the Columbian war steamer Bolivar, refused the request of Correroso to aid him.

Nothing later has been heard from South America.

The steamer Manhattan arrived yesterday.

GENERAL BUTLER.

Serenade on Wednesday Evening—He Makes a Speech.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOWELL, November 5.—General Butler was greeted last evening by about three thousand of his fellow-citizens, to whom he made a brief speech. He had triumphed, he said, under the motto of equality to all men and equal rights under the law, by using freedom's great weapon, the ballot. He hailed the glorious triumph of Republican principles throughout the land, and believed it would bring peace and prosperity. We shall not long have murder after murder, and riot after riot. Look at New Orleans, from where we have reported 25,000 votes for Seymour and 276 for Grant. There was a time when people behaved better, (applause) and he felt confident such a time would come once more. Several Southern States have voted for Seymour, or are in doubt, because men's lives were threatened if they attempted to vote. When Congress meets in a short time it will be our purpose to find a remedy for this state of things, and if Andrew Johnson does not second our efforts, though it will be late in the day, we will try to provide for him. (Applause.) If the Republican party is true to the great Democratic principles of Jefferson and others, it will hold the Government for generations to come. We must be true to the doctrines of Equality, and trust in the integrity of the great mass of the people rather than to any member selected from among them. Let us pledge ourselves, as the party in power, with renewed zeal, that we will aid in carrying out the principles under which we have triumphed.

FROM MEXICO.

Spanish Revolution—Minister of War Refuses to Surrender Domingaez—Italian Minister Expected.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, November 5.—Mail advices from Mexico are to the 22d ult. Most of the Spaniards in the country are excited over the Spanish revolution, but are in favor of it.

The Governor of Vera Cruz demanded that Domingaez be surrendered to the State authorities for trial, but the Minister of War refused.

The Italian Minister is expected towards the end of October. It was thought he would be well received as the first representative of a European power since the overthrow of Maximilian.

Grand Republican Illumination.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, November 5.—The Republicans are preparing for a general illumination in honor of the election of Gen. Grant.

GROWTH OF PHILADELPHIA.

The growth of this city attracts general notice. Nearly five thousand new buildings have been erected this year.

STRINGENT MONEY MARKET.

Another Scare in Savannah.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAVANNAH, November 5.—The negroes disbanded last night, but are again assembling at Telfair plantation, and are said to be armed with United States muskets. The excitement in the city continues. The citizens are on the alert for any alarm. Hopes are entertained that no collision will occur, as every precaution has been taken by the civil and military authorities. Young Law, who was killed by the negroes on the night of the election, was buried to-day. The attendance at the funeral was very large. Another of the police, who was shot in the riot, died last night.

FROM EUROPE.

English Newspapers on the Election of Grant—Minister Johnson Assures the English that Our Public Debt will be Paid in Gold—Queen Returned from Scotland—Prussian Diet—The Spanish Throne—French Press on the Result of our Presidential Election, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, November 5.—The newspapers here comment variously upon the election of Grant. The Telegraph, after noting the lofty character and position of Grant, says the defeat of the Democracy was richly deserved. They should have accepted the result of the war by nominating Judge Chase and not Horatio Seymour, a peace man, whose election would have been a recantation of all accomplished by the war.

The Sheriffs of London gave a dinner this evening, at which Reverdy Johnson was the chief guest, and had an enthusiastic reception. In reply to the toast, "The United States," Mr. Johnson said although a Southerner, he had always believed that the Union should be preserved at any cost. He extolled the heroes of the war, and particularly Generals Grant, Sherman, Hancock and Sheridan, and Admirals Farragut and Porter. He believed that the American debt would be paid in gold, and said the American people would have been ungrateful if they had not elected General Grant to the Presidency. Mr. Johnson dines with the Workingmen of London the last part of this week.

In the course of his speech at the Sheriff's banquet, on Tuesday evening, Mr. Johnson said: Whatever difficulties have occurred between England and the United States I have supreme pleasure in saying they are about to be removed, and little remains to be done, and before the end of the year every thing will be successfully adjusted. Referring to the financial position of the United States he said: We have contracted an enormous debt, but I tell you with all the sincerity with which a man can speak every dollar will be paid in what the world recognizes as money.

The Daily News thinks the American people are evidently weary of their last two years' experience, and demand a strong government.

The Morning Standard charges the Republican party with the suppression of freedom of voting in several States, the enfranchisement of hundreds of thousands of ignorant blacks, and the disenfranchisement of nearly all the Southern people. This state of things, it continues, coupled with the fact that the Radicals held possession of the State governments and had control of the polling booths, with their notorious readiness to abuse this power, made the Democrats fight at a terrible disadvantage. But had the Democratic party nominated Chase or McClellan instead of two second-rate politicians, it might have succeeded in the election.

The Times says that though the Democrats are beaten and the representation in Congress is largely against them, they are yet a powerful party and must greatly influence the policy of the Government. The success of General Grant no one is disposed to regret. He has fairly won his high rank by hard work and devotion to his country, and rendered services which will live long in its remembrance. He is no politician and will take his office with greater freedom than if, the hero of a hundred battles, he had uttered all the "shibboleths" of party.

LONDON, November 5.—Evening.—The Queen has returned from Scotland and is now at Windsor Castle.

The boisterous weather in the Channel has caused the partial suspension of travel, and the steamers plying across the Channel are delayed by the storm.

The Queen of Holland is at Balmoral Castle, where she has been received with much cordiality by Queen Victoria. Lord Stanley and Mr. D'Israeli were with her from London. Her visit is connected with questions relative to the free navigation of the Rhine.

EDINBURG, November 5.—John Bright, to-day, visited the Edinburg Chamber of Commerce, and was elected an honorary member. He made a speech in which he discussed the topics of taxation and expenditures.

FRANCE.

PARIS, November 5.—The Gaulers says the Carlists are circulating the report that the Emperor Napoleon will throw his influence in favor of Don Carlos, should he be presented as a candidate for the throne of Spain. A dispatch to the same journal reports that the selection of a Spanish Grandee for King is mooted in Madrid.

All the journals have editorials on the result of the Presidential election in the United States. The Patrie says Gen. Grant is the man of a nation, not of a party. He saved the Union and will restore it to its former standing among the great powers.

Americans are everywhere enthusiastic over the result, and Europe applauds the decision of the Republic. This election establishes order and peace, the highest aim of the United States.

The Etendard regards the election as a continuation of the victory over the South. The mission of General Grant is a difficult one. He will find it necessary to oppose Congress. The affairs of the country require a strong and able hand to repair the broken links of liberty. Both continents have reason to be pleased with the result. General Grant is a worthy successor of Washington.

The Journal Des Debats, and other Liberal journals, are satisfied with the result, and calls Grant the true successor to President Adams.

The Presse declares that the success of the Republican party is the triumph of centralization, and thinks it singular that a soldier should be elected chief officer of so great a power, while the nations of Europe seek peace.

PRUSSIA.

BERLIN, November 5.—Herr Forckenbeck is re-elected President of the Chamber of Deputies.

Dr. Jacoby, the eminent Liberal statesman, announces his withdrawal from the ranks of the Progressive party.

ARRIVED.

GLASGOW, November 5.—The steamer Columbia from New York has arrived.

Ocean House Not Burned.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEWPORT, R. I., November 5.—The statethat the Ocean House was burned on Saturday night is incorrect.

How it was Done in New York.

The New York Commercial Advertiser says: The large Democratic majority in this city is owing to the want of thorough organization on the part of the Republicans. In nearly all of the strong Democratic voting precincts, there was no Republican challenger on duty, and the inspectors of elections were either intimidated from doing their duty by Democratic ruffians, or corrupted to close their eyes to the frauds being perpetrated. The manner in which some of the polls were deserted by the Republicans was not only shameful, but cowardly. The fact that over thirty thousand bogus names were placed on the registration, and that the Democrats were permitted to vote in excess of the registration in some districts, is evidence sufficient to show the infirmity and imbecility of the Republican organization. It is not only worthless, we are sorry to say, but rotten. Take for instance the Sixth ward, 5,651 names were registered—the vote is 5,033 for Hoffman, 368 for Griswold—total, 5,401, showing that they voted within 259 of the number registered. No honest man will say that there are in the ward 2,500 legal voters. Here is a clear fraud of 2,500 votes for Seymour and Hoffman. The same frauds are seen in the Seventh, Eleventh, Seventeenth and Twenty-first wards. Never in the history of elections were ever witnessed such barefaced ballot-box stuffing. The election in the city is nothing more than a mockery and a farce. It is no expression of the people. It is the voice of wickedness intensified.

A Mother and Child Drowned in a Well.

One of the most heart-rending accidents that it has been our painful duty to record for a long time occurred at the corner of Railroad and Fifteenth avenue yesterday, afternoon, about three o'clock. Mrs. Sherwood left her home, about three o'clock, with the intention of calling upon some of the neighbors, taking her little child—two years old—in her arms. Her husband, who had one of his legs broken about two months ago, was unable to accompany her. At the time appointed for her return she failed to make her appearance, and Sherwood, feeling a little anxious, hobbled out to see if they were in sight. He passed along the stoop at the rear of the house, and discovered that the newly dug well, the top of which came nearly even with the stoop, was uncovered, and the boards lying scattered around. One glance was sufficient to tell the whole story. The mother and child had fallen into the well. He drew near the place with terrible forebodings, and gazed into the gloomy depths only to see his worst fears realized. The corps of the little child was floating upon the water. The neighbors were attracted to the spot by his shrieks and distracted cries of anguish and despair. The corpse of the child was drawn out, and a ladder being let down, what was supposed to be the body of the mother was felt at the bottom, some fifteen feet under water. Mrs. Sherwood was an estimable lady, beloved by all who knew her. At last accounts this terrible catastrophe had so worked upon Sherwood's mind that it was feared he would go crazy. [San Francisco Bulletin.

A Young Illinois Diplomat.

G. A. Townsend, in his Washington letter to the Hartford Post, pays the following handsome compliment to a worthy young Illinoisrn, while mentioning others in our foreign diplomatic service:

Among the young men at home, or en route, is John Hay, the late President's secretary, who hails, I believe, from Alton, Ill. Hay has had remarkable luck in the patronage of the State Department, but he owed it originally to his talents and maintained it by his prudence. He is about 32 years old; but does not look to be more than 25. He is small in stature, of a light and rose complexion, with brown hair, goldtinted, and a clear, fine eye. He was Secretary of Legation and Charge d' Affaires in Paris, and held also the latter rank in Vienna. Being lively and well bred, he attracted attention in both capitals and from the household of the Countess Guiccioli to the private office of M. Thouvenal he was held in pleasant request. His literary talents are of a notable grace and manliness; Mr. Lincoln admired his poetry and among his associates in France were About, Laboulaye, Dore and other bright young intellects of the period. It is in the civil service that a man like Hay would deport himself to distinction, if time and encouragement were permitted by the demoralized character of our politics. He bridged over the space between Motley and Watts so well that it is questionable whether we would not do well to save the big salaries altogether, if indeed we require half of our diplomatic body.

The Working People.

According to a recent calculation as to the condition of the working people of the United States, the average life of American mechanics is estimated at 46½ years, and the average number of days of work in this climate at 250 in each year. The average expense of an adult for board and clothing in the seaboard cities are calculated at about $300 a year. On the supposition that a laborer is paid on an average of $3 a day for his work for the 250 days working, he will receive $750 a year. Deduct price of boarding and clothing, $300, and there is left $450 for all expenses of keeping a family, for amusements, education and contingencies. The sum, it is asserted, is insufficient in many instances. The average working years of a laboring man being estimated at twenty, his total earnings in an average life-time, with 250 working days in the year, at $3 per day, would be $15,000, or $322.58 per year, $6.20 per week.

THE RECENT explosions in the English collieries appear to have been caused by the carelessness of the miners themselves. The evidence given before the Coroner's jury after one of these accidents showed that the lamps were unlocked, so that the gas came in contact with the flame. The mines inspection act forbids such practices, and recently a court in Lanarkshire fined a number of miners for working in a coal pit with safety lamps that were unlocked, and that had been given out in this state by the overseer. The men were working about fifty yards from a point where an explosion from fire damp had occurred a few days before.

GUANO AND LUCIFER MATCHES.—Recent English papers mention the fact that one hundred tons of guano have been sent from Southampton to Birmingham, to be used in the manufacture of lucifer matches. The phosphoric acid is extracted from the guano to be converted into phosphorus to form the composition with which the matches are tipped.

A Church Blown Away.

Yesterday morning about nine o'clock, a little brick church on the Hardin pike, about eleven miles from the city, and situated on a point where the road runs between two lofty hills, was literally blown away, only about four feet of the walls being left standing. The wind had been pretty stormy all the morning, and many trees had been blown down on the surrounding hills, but at the hour above named a gust of wind swept along the road, catching up, in its sweeping progress, every detached object in the way and whirling them round as if it were a horizontal cylender, fence rails, branches of trees, hunks of earth, and even stones were whirled around by aerial anger as it came along with irresistible force and inconceivable rapidity—it struck the church about four feet above the ground, ripped off the bricks and mortar, and swept the whole upper part away quite clean. A few bricks were dropped along the road for two or three hundred yards, but the main portion was taken nearly half a mile, to where the road opened out on a wide stretch of comparatively flat country, and there dropped in the bed of a creek, with the roof still firmly attached to the walls. Two cows that had been to leeward of the building while it was yet standing, were knocked about twenty yards away into a hollow. They seemed considerably stupified, but otherwise sustained no damage.—Nashville Press, Nov. 2.

Extraordinary Suit for Trespass.

A suit of an extraordinary nature was tried in Justice Aldridge's Court, at Hudson City, New Jersey, a few days since, to recover damages for trespass, in opening a grave and chisling off a piece of the coffin. Last summer a son of James R. Knapp was burried by Henry Stiff, undertaker, and subsequently, when the bill was presented, Mr. Knapp refused to pay the full amount claimed, alleging that the coffin was not black walnut, as agreed upon. To settle the dispute, it was agreed that they should open the grave on the 12th of August, but on the 11th Mr. Stiff proceeded to the cemetery and directed the sexton to open the grave and chip off a piece of the coffin from the shoulder with a sharp chisel, which the defendant furnished, and which would do no damage. The sexton did as directed, and in company with Mr. Stiff presented the piece of coffin to Mr. Knapp for inspection. This act done before the time agreed upon, excited suspicion in the mind of Mr. Knapp, who did not believe it to be a piece of the coffin, and still refusing to pay the bill, Mr. Stiff brought suit and recoved the full amount of his demand. The present suit was brought to recover as above. The jury after being out six hours, brought in a verdict of five dollars damages for the plaintiff.

The German Population of the United States.

The New York Times' correspondent, who writes from "The Beeches," distributes the German element in this country as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Native Germans in this country.... | | | 1,301,136 |
| do | do | New York..... | 256,252 |
| do | do | Ohio..... | 168,210 |
| do | do | Pennsylvania... | 138,244 |
| do | do | Illinois ..... | 130,804 |
| do | do | Wisconsin ..... | 128,179 |
| do | do | Missouri ..... | 88,487 |
| do | do | Indiana..... | 66,705 |

He follows the German population to some of the largest cities, and presents the subjoined statistics:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| New Orleans... | 3,202 | Cincinnati ..... | 43,391 |
| New York..... | 118,977 | Chicago. ..... | 22,227 |
| Philadelphia... | 43,639 | St. Louis..... | 50,510 |
| Baltimore..... | 32,608 | New Orleans... | 19,729 |

The conclusion he reaches from these figures is that "the main body of Germans live in the country, in which they differ widely from the Irish."

A California Incident.

The following, from a late California paper, is peculiarly Californian:

A few days since a couple of gentlemen residing in Gibsonville, Plumas, who were expecting their wives from the East, went to La Porte to meet them. When the stage arrived there were several ladies among the passengers, but the men aforesaid were sadly disappointed in not recognizing their loved ones among the number, and went back home, expecting to go down again next day, but much to their surprise, when the stage went to Gibson the next morning, it carried their looked-for wives. They saw each other at La Porte, but failed to recognize one another, and, strange to relate, one couple had been separated only eight months.

RUSSIA AND THE UNITED STATES.—In 1866, goods valued at $1,146 462 were imported into the United States from Russia, and in 1867, goods valued at $1,010,389. The exports to Russia in 1856 were valued at $1,797,760, and in 1867, at $3,682,841, the chief increase in our exports being in cotton and petroleum, but enough of these to double the total. The trade between the two countries is steadily increasing, in 1855 the imports from Russia being valued at $2,000, and the exports to Russia at $11,600. The chief exports from Russia to the United States in 1867 were: Hemp, linen cloths, ropes and cables, horse hair, bristles, woods, sheet iron, wool, rags, flax, mats, Russia leather. The chief imports from the United States in 1867 were: Cotton, petroleum, sugar, wines, apothecaries' materials, white rosin, dyewoods, dye extracts, precious woods, machines, wrought iron work and clays.

THE new Queen of Madagascar has abolished idol worship and openly declared her contempt for the idols and their priests. The Queen herself has not yet espoused Christianity, but the impetus given to the work of conversion is reported to be such that "the Christian churches cannot contain the crowds who flock to hear the Gospel."

"MARRIED AT LAST."

BY CLAUDE VINCENT COURTNEY.

"Married at last!" they say,
And they laugh at the oldish bride,
And pity the handsome, stately man,
In his life's midsummer pride;
There are grey threads in her hair,
And a wrinkle on her brow,
But the happy smile that her childhood wore
Is as bright and joyous now.

"Married at last!" Ah, yes!
She has waited a long, long time,
For this same dark man, with his winning eyes,
Wooed her in her girlhood's prime;
But a gray-haired mother and sire
Were dependent on her love,
So she turned from him and his costly home,
With her faith in Heaven above.

And the years passed one by one
Till they counted up fourteen;
And then he came for his promised bride,
For no life was now between;
The grayhaired parents sleep
In the churchyard near the shore,
And their latest words were a blessing breathed
On their sweet child Leonore.

"That is one old maid the less,"
You say as you toss your curls;
'Twere well indeed if that old maid's heart
Could be imaged by all young girls:
He does not think her old,
Nor mourns for the past young life,
For the same sweet soul looks out at him
Through the eyes of his new-made wife.

I have told you of her life—
Can you laugh at her wrinkles now?
Or pity the handsome man who pressed
That kiss on her pure, sweet brow?
All the earth looks glad to-day,
And the sun's best beams are cast,
As a benediction o'er the pair,
Who are man and wife at last.

—The New York Tribune says:

Two more unfortunates,
Weary of breath,
Rashly importunate,
Gone to their death!
Take them up tenderly,
Lift them with care,
Handle them gingerly,
For Seymour and Blair.

—The Freiheits Freund has been doing a great deal of good to the cause of justice and loyalty throughout the campaign, and to its efforts we owe the fact that the truth has reached many persons, who, in consequence of imperfect knowledge of English, would otherwise have remained in darkness. To make use of a little quotation, when we think of the Freund and its editors, we say with old Rip Van Winkle, "may they live long and prosper."

—These few we get from a Philadelphia exchange:

The Age this morning says "The fight has only begun!" 'You have knocked me known, kicked me in the ribs, pulled my nose and mangled me generally," said an under man in a fight, "but you had better be careful or you will arouse the lion in me directly."

Democratic arithmetic—twice two is nineteen and one is forty-five—won't do to-day. We are ciphering just now in multiplication, not in (Ho) ratio.

We had a little party once,
In which we took no pride;
But ah! it tried to carry Blair,
And doubled up and died.

Died: Nov. 3d, 1868, after a lingering illness, caused by torpidity and general debility and mal-practice on the part of Doctors Seymour and Blair—the Democratic party. The obsequies will take place on the 4th of March next. Friends of the deceased, and members of the K. K. K., Keystone and other clubs are invited—to stay away.

"None knew thee but to curse thee,
None saw thee but to hate."

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, November 5, 1868.

There is a rather better feeling manifested in commercial circles, and now that the excitement in regard to the election has pretty well subsided, people will begin to turn their attention more closely to business, and the indications are, upon the whole, favorable for a decided improvement in this respect. Besides, the grain panic in the west is also subsiding, the advices from Chicago for some days past being of a more cheering character, and while it is not at all probable, nor desirous, that prices should go back to where they were before the tumble, it is probable that there will be a reaction, for just as soon as it is thought that the bottom has been touched and operators begin to take hold again, an advance is almost inevitable.

River and Weather.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 5.—River swelling slowly with 3 feet 8 inches in the canal.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede slowly at this point with six feet ten inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks last evening. The weather yesterday was very changeable, in the evening it was stormy and cold, with an occasional spurt of rain and snow.

The R. C. Gray leaves for Cincinnati today, with a cargo mainly of refined oil, shipped by Fleming & Company, of the Ardesco.

The G. A. Thompson, Capt. U. B. Piersel, is announced to leave for Arkansas River on Saturday without fail. Gen. Barnes is her agent. Capt. Piersel, although absent for several years, is an old Pittsburgh steamboatman.

The Camelia, Capt. Thomas Poe, is the only boat in port loading for Nashville.

The Bayard arrived and departed for Parkersburg. The Ingomar is the regular packet for to-day.

The Lorena did not get out until yesterday, being unable to get all her freight aboard on Wednesday, and the same was true of the New York.

The Armenia, from Wheeling, where she had been laid up for some waiting for water, arrived, and the Messenger and Armadillo from Parkersburg, were due here last night.

The Maggie Hays, Capt. Martin is now in turn for St. Louis, and will be the first boat out. She is one of the best boats in the trade.

The St. Charles from Cincinnati, was due last night, and will doubtless be found in port this morning.

Steamboatmen are complaining of a scarcity of laborers, and they command from fifty to sixty cents per hour.

The new steamer Arkansas, Capt. A. H. Shaw, will be finished within a few days. She is now prepared to make engagements for New Orleans, and intermediate points.

The Armadillo, Capt. D. H. Swaney, is announced for New Orleans forthwith. The Ida Rees, Capt. Stubblefield, is also announced for the same point.

Capt. Tom Shuman of the Wauanita, left for Cincinnati yesterday. The Wauanita has not been here for several months.

—The Bellevernon was to have left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Wednesday evening.

—The Belle Lee has been chartered to Captain Tom. P. Leathers for the New Orleans and Vicksburg trade, and starts next Monday.

—The Helena, that sunk below Sioux City, a few days ago, was insured in the Boatmen's, of Cincinnati, for $3,000, and the Home, of New Haven, for $2,500. The Lily, that sunk in the same river, not long ago, belonged to the same party—Captain C. H. Tyler, of St. Louis—and was insured in the National, of Cincinnati, for $1,500; Boatmen's, Cincinnati, $3,000 and Stock and Mutual, of Chicago, $2,500.

—Ten miles above Davenport, on the Mississippi River, is a point which, from time immemorial, has been a terror to navigators, known as Sycamore chain. More than one flatboat, raft or steamer, loaded with treasure, has been drawn within its capacious maw. It is reported by the oldest inhabitants that tuns and tuns of pig lead from the Dubuque and Galena mines, on its way, by barge, down the stream, have found the bottom of the Sycamore cauldron, and counted as total loss. These riches are to be recovered soon as Case & Co., the Government contractors, are inclosing more than fifty acres of the Chain in a coffer dam, and in a few weeks the water will be pumped out, and the river bed laid bare.

—We clip the following from the St. Louis Republican, in regard to the Great Republic. From time to time during the last few months our readers will have noticed that libels have been filed in the United States District Court against the steamboat Great Republic. Some of these have been for wages, but the majority for comparatively large amounts, have been for supplies to the boat. Yesterday some additional libels were filed against it. The petitioners and amounts were:

| | |
|---|---|
| J. Closkey, supplies and materials | $ 680,00 |
| Thos. D. Dunnill, materials | 96,00 |
| Wm. Mumbouer, wages | 1,889,00 |
| Sam. Barr, wages | 2,280,00 |
| Sam. Barr, on a contract | 1,853,40 |
| J. Wilson, et. al., supplies | 274,08 |
| J. O. Alter, supplies | 177,30 |
| J. Aiken, et. al., supplies | 2,076,11 |

In the course of the Court's proceedings, a motion was made for an order for the sale of the boat. Mr. G. E. Leighton stated, speaking for the owners, that they would not object to it as they supposed it would have to be sold. The lien claims against it would not exceed $50,000, and the sale of it would probably realize $60,000 or $80,000. The Court ordered that the boat should be sold on twenty days notice by the United States Marshall, the same to be advertised in St. Louis, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh papers. The terms of the sale are to be one-half cash and one-half in six months; the deferred payment to be secured by stipulation to pay the same on maturity. The Great Republic, which originally cost $285,000, is now lying at Carondelet. There is no boat on the river which approaches it in magnificence.

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the lungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the internal organs may be, and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do the repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs, the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently seen these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out of the animal economy all effete and used up material. Dr. K. says that he has known the most distressing and harassing coughs, whose vibrations would threaten to shake the whole constitution to pieces, removed in the course of a few days In long standing cases of consumption, or of other sometimes fatal, but always troublesome and annoying maladies, known as catarrh, chronic bronchitis, trachitis or pharyngitis, it is a wonderful alleviating medicine in the former and a sure cure in he latter disease.

DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE IS ENRICHED BY SOME OF THE MOST VALUABLE PLANTS AND HERBS KNOWN TO BE USEFUL AND CURATIVE IN ALL DETERIORATED STATES OF THE HUMAN BLOOD, and whilst it adds to its plasma, it at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glandular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. The sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficiently alive to the importance of health, will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no falling into declines and rapid consumption, hopelessly incurable and so most surely fatal.

Gold closed in New York yesterday at 132½@132⅝.

IT IS still uncertain whether the New York Legislature has a Republican or a Democratic majority; but the returns favor the former.

THE RECESS OF CONGRESS has been still further extended. No session will be held on the 10th instant, or until the regular day for meeting in December. The results of the general election on Tuesday last, are believed to provide amply against either Presidential usurpation or rebel violence.

THE country will be gratified to learn that General REYNOLDS, the Military Commander whose inefficiency is responsible in some degree for the reign of terror which has prevailed in Texas, has been superceded by General CANBY, who now goes to that district with full discretionary powers, under the reconstruction acts. Tuesday's work already bears fruit.

THE Republicans of the Seventeenth Ward of Pittsburgh, formerly a part of Lawrenceville, appear to have made the largest proportionate gains at the November election over the count in October. The working Republicans of that ward are intelligent, vigilant and indefatigable, knowing precisely what has to be done, and how to do it. They are always equal to the case in hand.

THE BITTER EXPERIENCE OF THE WAR has wrought little apparent change in the political principles and sentiments of the white portion of the population of the Southern States.

The States that went into Rebellion were under Democratic control. If they had been under other management they would have remained in the Union and obedient to the laws.

The white inhabitants of those States are as strongly Democratic now as when they plunged the nation into civil war; and, because Democratic. are just as hostile to the government this day as the were in 1860.

That this Democratic element constitutes a majority of the Southern people, we do not believe; but by innumerable murders and lesser violences, systematically committed before the elections, they effectually intimidated many of their loyal neighbors, both white and black.

But for the election of GRANT and COLFAX no prominent loyalist would to-day be safe from bodily harm in those States. Whatever protection they now enjoy they owe to the decision made at the ballot-boxes. That decision, with all that it implies, must be enforced, and through its enforcement alone will be found the way to Peace, Order and Fraternity.

THE ELECTORAL VOTE.

The latest returns divide the Electoral vote as follows:

FOR GRANT AND COLFAX.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Maine | 7 | Wisconsin | 8 |
| New Hampshire | 5 | Iowa | 8 |
| Vermont | 5 | Minnesota | 4 |
| Massachusetts | 12 | Kansas | 3 |
| Rhode Island | 4 | Nebraska | 3 |
| Connecticut | 6 | Nevada | 3 |
| Pennsylvania | 26 | Missouri | 11 |
| Ohio | 21 | West Virginia | 5 |
| Indiana | 13 | Florida | 3 |
| Illinois | 16 | Tennesssee | 10 |
| Michigan | 8 | California | 5 |
| Oregon | 3 | South Carolina | 6 |
| Total | | | 195 |

FOR SEYMOUR AND BLAIR.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| New Jersey | 7 | Kentucky | 11 |
| New York | 33 | Alabama | 8 |
| Delaware | 3 | Arkansas | 5 |
| Maryland | 7 | Louisiana | 7 |
| Georgia | 9 | | |
| Total | | | 90 |

The probabilities increase, that the nine votes of North Carolina are also secured for GRANT, giving a total of two hundred and four.

SEYMOUR carries New York by less than 5,000, and New Jersey by not over 2,000, figures which are considerably less than half the illegal votes cast for him in those States. Were it practicable to purge those polls, both States would give their Electoral vote—an additional forty—to the Union ticket.

NATURALIZATION.

As far back as authentic History runs, and antecedently, long glimmering through Tradition, all civilized nations are reported to have encouraged the domiciliation within their borders of foreigners, or, at least, of certain individuals and special classes. Often one nation has borrowed from another its reigning family. Important branches of industry have frequently been introduced into a nation by immigrants, and have taken root there to the enhancement of the general prosperity. Laws have existed in most countries for the naturalization of foreigners; though in nearly all that have been old and populous, conditions have been stringent, the intention being to confer the right of citizenship only on such persons as had rendered extraordinary services or possessed unusual capacities. Sometimes, in addition, a price in money has been demanded, putting the privilege quite beyond the reach of men in moderate pecuniary circumstances. The Chief Captain declared to the Apostle PAUL that "with a great price" he obtained Roman citizenship, and there is ample historic attestation that he could thus have acquired it.

Instances, however, are not lacking in which certain orders of men have been expelled from different countries, or been debarred from entering. For many ages the Jews were treated with the greatest inhumanity in all Christian countries. It was for a long period almost made a test of orthodoxy to heap all sorts of disabilities and humiliations upon them. They were oppressed, driven out, insulted, beaten and robbed, with absolute impunity. Dissenters from the popular religion of the special country have often fared no better, and sometimes have been exposed to wholesale slaughter. As an order, the Jesuits, in the modern centuries, have had a singular fortune, oscillating between caresses, opulence and authority on the one hand, and buffetings, poverty and expulsion on the other.

New and sparsely populated countries invariably hold out the largest inducements for foreigners to settle therein; and have granted to foreigners on the shortest probations and the cheapest terms all the rights of citizenship. An increase of inhabitants has been felt in such countries to be not simply an advantage, but a necessity.

One of the complaints made in the Declaration of Independence against the British Crown was that it had "obstructed the laws for the naturalization of foreigners." The newness of the colonies, in connection with the extent of territory to be occupied, and the unequaled natural resources thereof, made rapidly augumenting population highly desirable, while the genius of the colonists quickened and invigorated by surrounding circumstances, tended powerfully to the assertion and acknowledgement of an equality of political rights.

But it should be borne in mind that the early settlers of this country were not mainly driven from the homes of their nativity by the pressure of poverty. They were rather persons of strong convictions, who held unpopular theological opinions, and were consequently subjected to such severities that they found wildernesses and solitary places more comfortable than their old childhood haunts. While such men ordinarily possess a positiveness of character, a self-assertion and scrupulousness, which render them in the popular judgment unamiable it would be unjust to deny the existence in them of valuable elements.

In the respects mentioned the condition of the United States is not now what the condition of the thirteen Colonies was in 1776. The special need of population has passed away. Three millions of people have grown to be thirty-six millions, unsurpassed by an equal number anywhere in the means and attributes essential to constitute a great nation. Immigrants have ceased to flock hither to escape religious persecution. They now come to improve their material prospects, and to establish their children where they can have the amplest opportunities to rise in position and influence by a proper use of their talents and aptitudes.

Some among us infer from this that our naturalization laws have accomplished the ends for which they were designed, and should be repealed or made much more stringent than they are. To this we do not consent, either in whole or in part. That great abuses have been practiced under those laws is true; abuses which call both for punishment and remedy; but the ideas of Freedom and Equality which animate our institutions and are essential to their perpetuation, require that laws for the naturalization of foreigners be continued in operation.

What is needful, in the first place, is that official personages and private individuals who were concerned in the recent stupendous frauds should be hunted out as far as may be, convicted of the crimes they committed, and be condemned to such punishment, as the laws provide. If the Republicans do not take this matter earnestly in hand, and pursue it with relentless vigor and determination, they will deserve to be beaten by frauds of like sorts at the next trial of strength between them and their opponents. Perhaps a score of Democratic Judges and Prothonotaries are already in the clutches of the law, but several times that number ought to be. Raising an outcry about fraudulent certificates of naturalization upon the eve of each contested election, and then immediately after the contest is over settling down as though nothing illegal had been done, will not answer now. The Republicans are bound in justice and honor to ferret out the offenders and have rigors of the laws visited upon them.

It is further incumbent on them to provide for the regular and responsible administration of the naturalization laws; not to interpose obstacles to the obtainment of citizenship by aliens, but to have the laws executed only by authorized persons and under such conditions and responsibilities as shall tend to make frauds difficult, and the punishment thereof certain. To this end we shall take early occasion to call public attention to specific defects in the laws as they stand, and to suggest such amendments as are demanded in view of what has transpired.

THE NEXT CONGRESS.

The full House, all the thirty-seven States being represented, comprises two hundred and forty-three members. Deducting therefrom seventeen for the unreconstructed States of Virginia, Texas and Mississippi, the number will be two hundred and twenty-six. But these vacancies are not likely to remain unfilled, when the new Congress meets in December, '69. The present House stands one hundred and seventy Republicans to fifty-seven Democrats. Elections for the XLIst Congress are complete in all the States except New Hampshire, Connecticut, Florida and Alabama. Of the two hundred and eleven new members thus far chosen, one hundred and thirty-seven are Republicans and seventy-four Democrats hold certificates. Of the latter, four, viz: DICKENSON, (IXth Ohio,) VOORHEES, (VIth Indiana,) MOFFAT and READING, (IIId and Vth Pennsylvania,) will fail to sustain their claims, if contested as they will be. And at least two of the Louisiana delegation, from the districts comprehending the city and vicinity of New Orleans, will be rejected, the House being likely to declare their claims void and that no election had been held lawfully therein. Indeed, it is not improbable that a still larger part, if not the whole, of the Louisiana delegation, may be denied admission for the same good cause. Estimating, however, that but the two are rejected, and that the four seats fraudulently claimed from this State, Ohio and Indiana, are given, in accordance with the majority of the honest votes, to the Republican claimants, and the result of all the elections to date will stand one hundred and forty-one Republicans and sixty-eight Democrats, with thirty-three members yet to be chosen, as follows: New Hampshire, 3; Connecticut, 4; Florida, 1; Alabama, 6; Louisiana, 2; Virginia, 8; Texas, 4, and Mississippi, 5. Of these, the Republicans may safely count upon five, from the first three States, as at present, conceding to the opposition—should there be any opposition—three from Connecticut and the entire delegations from all the late rebel States except Florida. The new House would thus stand one hundred and forty-six Republicans to ninety-six Democrats, when all the States are in, and one hundred and forty-six Republicans to seventy-nine Democrats, leaving out Virginia, Texas and Mississippi—which would be, in either event, less than a two-thirds Republican majority.

But it is far from certain that the entire delegations from Alabama and Louisiana will be rebel, or that the three unreconstructed States will send members exclusively of that stripe. Excluding the latter States, we need to gain but four members to secure two-thirds. One of these ought to come from Connecticut, and if the other three are not furnished by Alabama and Louisiana, we underrate the just influence of last Tuesday's work. We are not so sanguine of electing the two-thirds of the members from the three States still out, which would be requisite for retaining this two-thirds majority.

So much for the results of the elections, in their relation to the popular branch of Congress. But the preservation of a two-thirds majority therein is no longer to be a point of absolute importance. We shall have no more JOHNSONS to curb, no more mischievous vetoes to annul. The new President and the new Congress will act harmoniously together, their single purpose the greatest good of the greatest number, and with no possibility that any factious opposition may be waged successfully by so hopeless a minority in either branch. Should all the Southern members yet to come in be found arrayed against President GRANT's administration, even that need not be very much deplored. That stamp of opposition will only strengthen the great cause of the Union in all the loyal States. All that shall be left of Democracy will very properly march under that flag; no longer national but sectional, and therefore justly remitted to its more congenial future in the still rebel States. With an already secured majority of fifty in a full House, and with four-fifths of the Senate to uphold the new Administration, the country enters upon a renewed and prosperous repose.

THERE ARE SERIOUS APPREHENSIONS that the increasing excitement against the American residents, in Hayti, may result in outrages upon their individual and National rights, requiring the naval and perhaps the military intervention of this Government for their protection. Such a case would present to the adherents of the late General BLAIR an excellent opportunity for wreaking their still unsatisfied vengeance against the "naygurs." It would also be well for them to remember that, as Camilla and Opelousas are no longer likely to be theatres for the safe exemplification of Democratic principles, a wide field invitingly presents itself in Cuba, where, unless speedily prevented by such appliances as our Southern rebels have been long familiar with, the abolition of African slavery is among the earliest possible events.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

CYCLOPŒDIA OF BIBLICAL, THEOLOGICAL AND ECCLESIASTICAL LITERATURE. Prepared by the Rev. John McClintock, D. D., and James Strong, S. T. D. Vol. II.—C. D. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York. For sale by Dr. J. L. Read, Wood street, Pittsburgh.

When the first volume of this valuable work appeared, several months ago, we stated after a careful examination of the plan of the Cyclopœdia, that it surpassed anything of the kind in print. The accuracy, extensive research, ripe scholarship of the work are manifest on every page, and the views expressed are up to the advanced ideas of the age. The volume before us, like the first, sustains the high expectations raised by the publishers, and the work is brought out in a style worthy of the mammoth printing establishment of the Harper Brothers.

The Biblical knowledge of ages are here reproduced in a condensed form, theological subjects are made attractive, and with clearness and perspicuity, and science and revelation are brought into harmony. While the greater part of the articles of this Cyclopœdia are already prepared, to complete the work in six volumes, many important subjects can only be treated at or near the time of printing. As the work goes through the press, every authority is consulted in this revision. The power of condensation is beautifully illustrated in the numerous articles treated. Important articles are always given space sufficent to convey the meaning in hand. In the department of Biblical literature, in charge of Dr. Strong, not only Bible names are embraced, but also branches of Biblical instruction, including such artticles for instance, as Canon of Scripture, Commentary, Concordance, Criterian, Cross, etc., also, Biblical philology, manuscripts and versions, etc. This volume, C D, embraces very thing worthy to be incorporated in a work of this character. We might give samples to show the drift of the work, and the broad and vigorous grasp of thought developed throughout, but this is unnecessary. It is worthy of a place in every student's library, and clergymen and Bible students of all denominations will do well to enrich their libraries with the Cyclœpedia.

DALLAS GALBRAITH. By Mrs. R. Harding Davis. Author of "Waiting for the Verdict," etc. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. For sale by R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

This beautiful American story, as it appeared in installments from month to month, in "Lippincott's Magazine," awakened much interest, and its reproduction in book form, not only will be welcomed by those who have read portions of it in the magazine, but hosts of admirers of this lady's writings. Those who have read "Waiting for the Verdict" will find "Dallas Galbraith" its equal, if not superior work. The story is one of the Jersey coast, and contains beautiful pictures of home life.

THE INVASION OF THE CRIMEA. Its origin, and an account of its progress down to the death of Lord Raglan. By Alexander William Kinglake. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

As we were not fortunate enough to receive the first volume of this interesting history of the Crimean war, we are deprived of an intelligent knowledge of the plan of the work. From the severe strictures of the author, in regard to the imbecility of the French commander, Marshal St. Arnaud, for not advancing upon Sebastopol, immediately after the battle of the Alma, we suppose he has dealt severe blows upon Napoleon III. for his perfidy. Mr. Kinglake charges upon the French Marshall the cause of the long seige of the city and the distress that followed. Years of patient research and toil have been bestowed in the preparation of this volume, in order that every point assumed is correct and defensible. Every incident of the brief time compressed in this book is narrated minutely, and with such pains taking, which makes the work intensely interesting. The purity of the author's style lends additional charm to the graphic descriptions, such as the celebrated charge of the Light Brigade. It is a work that will live when multitudes of other publications are forgotten.

OUR MUTUAL FRIEND. By Charles Dickens. With eight illustrations. Published by Ticknor & Fields, Boston. For sale by R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

"The Charles Dickens's Edition" is among the few of the many editions of the great novelist's works, that are worthy of high commendation. We have hitherto commended this edition for its many excellences. Beautifully printed on white paper, legible type, with head lines of the contents of each page, elegantly bound in blue cloth, and illustrated with elegant arts. The book is also portable and convenient for use. The story itself, "Our Mutual Friend," is one of Dickens's wonderful creations, and among the most popular of the whole series.

PLAIN THOUGHTS ON THE ART OF LIVING; designed for young men and women. By Washington Gladden. Published by Ticknor & Fields, Boston. For sale by R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

These charming essays were originally delivered as lectures to young men and women, on fifteen successive Sunday evenings, in North Adams, Mass. They were received with great favor at the time of their delivery. There is much to admire and to commend in this book, both on account of its practical worth and the elegant style in which the author's thoughts are presented. Guarded as his views of amusements are, especially of dancing and certain muscular games, there is still too much latitude given, just enough to invite the danger which he seeks to avoid. There is, however, a healthy glow of religious sentiment pervading the book.

AB-SA-RA-KA, HOME OF THE CROWS; being the experience of an officer's wife on the Plains. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co. For sale by R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

These lively sketches of Indian life, during a winter's experience on the plains, and embracing the vicissitudes of peril and pleasure during the occupation of the new route to Virginia City, Montana, 1866-7, and the Indian hostility thereto, are full of interest. The piquant style of the author, so proverbial with writers of the fair sex, mark its pages throughout. Just at this time, when the attention of the public is attracted to our interests on the Plains, this work ought to be popular and widely circulated. Valuable information is also imparted in regard to the natural features and resources of the land, and also tables of distance, maps, and other aids to the traveler, gathered by observation and other reliable sources.

ATLANTIC ALMANAC, 1869. Edited by Donald G. Mitchell. Published by Ticknor & Fields, Boston. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

This exquisitely fine annual is a rare combination of art, prose and poetry, and Astronomical and General Information. The colored illustrations of the seasons rival the best English productions, and the fine art illustrations, interspersed throughout with the superb pieces of prose and poetry, renders the book the Gem of Almanacs. It shows the handiwork of its editor.

IF, YES, AND PERHAPS. Four possibilities and six Exaggerations, with some bits of facts. By Edward E. Hale. Published by Ticknor & Fields, Boston. For sale R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

Readers of the Atlantic are aware of the wonderful imaginative and descriptive powers of the author. These tales and essays are dissimilar, and are, as the title would indicate, composed of fun, fact and fancy. Fun, however, has considerable prominence. Some of the articles, separately, such as "The Man without a Country," have been widely read. These essays and tales show the versatility of the author, and we are not surprised that the work is popular and likely to be extensively circulated.

SMOKING AND DRINKING. By James Parton. Published by Ticknor & Fields. For sale by R. S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

When these papers first appeared in the Atlantic, they produced quite a sensation, because of the novel treatment of these topics, and the ability of the writer in discussing such questions. Persons who will read these essays will derive benefit and instruction, and, we look for the accomplishment of good by their publication. We hope every young man will get the work and read them carefully to profit.

JOHN LENNARD; or Darkness to Light. Published by Henry Hoyt, Boston.

This little book belongs to the "Hillside Library" series. It is a story fraught with interest, and shows the power of saving grace in lifting fallen humanity from the lowest degradation, to become a child of God by adoption.

FREAKS OF FORTUNE; or, Half round the World.

MAKE OR BREAK; or, the Rich Man's Daughter. By Oliver Optic, Author of "Young America Abroad," and other works. Published by Lea & Shephard, Boston. For sale by J. W. Pittock, corner of Fifth avenue and Smithfield street, Pittsburgh.

These volumes belong to the "Stary Flag Series." The author, Mr. W. T. Adams, "Oliver Optic," has won quite an enviable name, as a writer for young people. He has written so many excellent books for boys that the mere announcement of his name is sufficient to give a book currency among the young folk. The moral influence and elevated tone of his works too make them safe to introduce into the family circle. Few persons have the ability to write nautical stories in which lessons of moral worth are taught as Oliver Optic. "Freaks of Fortune is one of this class. "Make or Break," the fifth of the serial stories, is of quite a different cast from the other, and shows the author to less advantage. It is, however, a story of much interest, in which truth and justice are beautifully blended and illustrated. The horoine of the story is a worthy model for young folk. The army of readers of Our Boys and Girls will welcome the publication of these stories in two such neat and attractive volumes.

LITTLE WOMEN; or Meg, Jo, Beth and Amy. By Louisa M. Alcott. Published by Roberts Brothers, Boston, Massachusetts. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

This vivacious story, is full of beautiful thoughts, expressed in beautiful words. It partakes of the Pilgrim Progress' flavor, and some of the characters might be classed with Bunyan's great Allegory, albeit the lack of an evangelical type. Much as the work deserves commendation, it is to be regretted that the allegorical representations are of such a cold type, and lacks the genial warmth of Christianity. It is, however, a captivating book for young people in spite of its Platonic element of spiritual things.

THE CONDITION OF THOUSANDS.

No appetite; no refreshing sleep; no cheerful thoughts; no disposition to labor; no inclination for society; no interest in anything; no desire to live, even; and yet no specific ailment which can be classed as a positive disease. Thousands, ay, tens of thousands, are in this condition—the martyrs of disabilities to which patholoogy assigns no technical name.

What is the source of their discomfort, mental and bodily? TORPOR OF THE STOMACH; and consequent upon that languor of the circulation, weakness of the nerves, and a clouded brain. What does common sense suggest as a remedy for this deficiency in vital power? Clearly, a RE-VITALIZING MEDICINE—something that will stimulate, tone and sustain the broken-down energies of nature. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS meet the case exactly. In this beneficent TONIC are combined all the ingredients necessary to change the condition of the system, and bring the dormant organs into healthful action. In the fall of the year, when the night-dews are chill and heavy, and the morning fogs are charged with miasma, the body, debilitated by the heats of summer, is particularly susceptible to unwholesome influences. At this season, of all others, therefore, invigoration is required, both as a safeguard against fever and ague and other malarious disorders, and as a preparation for the searching cold of winter. Dyspepsia, bilious complaints, nervous disorders, and distressing affections of the bowels, are always more or less prevalent in October and November, and the surest and safest means of averting them is a course of this purest, mildest and most efficacious of all tonics and alternatives.

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the lungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the internal organs may be and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do the repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs, the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently seen these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out the animal economy all effete and used up material. Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is enriched by some of the most valuable plants and herbs known to be useful and curative in all deteriorated states of the human blood, and whilst it adds to its plasma, it at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glandular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. The sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficiently alive to the importance of health, will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no falling into declines and rapid consumption, so hopelessly incurable, and so most surely fatal. Let any one afflicted with any pulmonary disease try but one bottle, and they will be convinced of the value of Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure. Sold by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at Dr. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood St.

Ship Captains.

A writer in an English magazine says: "The captains of some of our ocean steamers can scarcely be said to lead solitary lives. for they spend all their waking hours in society. At least three times a day they play the host at the head of a hospitable board, and unless they are very cross-grained fellows, every one treats them with deference and consideration. They can converse, if they so please, with the stiffest and most dignified of male passengers, while the prettiest and wittiest ladies on board are flattered by their attentions. Altogether, I think the captain of a Cunarder has rather a good time of it. Think of the characters he meets in the course of a twelve-months' buffeting with the Atlantic waves!

A Cunard captain. who should keep a carefully discriminated diary, might produce a work as interesting in its way as Boswell's Life of Johnson. He sees all sorts of noteworthy people. He carries the ambassador accredited to the Court of St. James, or Washington, as the case may be; he carries eminent actors and eminent songstresses going to reap a rich harvest of laurels and dollars in the United States; celebrities of all sorts gather their meat at his table. Sometimes, too, he carries people whose fame marvelously resembles infamy—the absconding bankrupt, the fraudulent clerk, running away with his employer's cash box and his employer's wife. Sometimes, doubtless, a murderer—well-to-do, or he would not be able to afford a passage on board a Cunard boat---stained with the blood of his fellow-man, yet calmly chatting and sipping his claret, honors him with a ten day's visit."

AT A recent dinner, at which no ladies were present, a man in responding to the toast on "women," dwelt almost solely on the frailty of the sex, claiming that the best among them were but little better than the worst, the chief difference being in the surroundings. At the conclusion of his speech a gentleman rose and said: "I trust the gentleman, in the application of his remarks, referred to his own mother and sisters, and not to ours."

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of the Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holders.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. The latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or its General Agents.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, November 5, 1868.

The acceptance of three per certificrtes in the exchange at the Clearing House, has given no relief to the money market, and it is now generally conceded that the stringency is caused by the large shipments of currency to the West and South, and not by locking up large amounts of greenbacks, as was reported. Gold, bonds and stocks have been sold to-day in anticipation of lower quotations and to get currency. Gold appears to have touched the lowest point for the present, yet few have courage enough to buy for a rise, and importers still keep aloof from the market.

In governments the decline was about 2 per cent. from the closing quotations of last evening; the market rallied a little today, but there is no relief as far as the stringency of the money market is concerned, and lower prices are predicted for to-morrow and Saturday. The decline of bonds here is the more astonishing, since bonds advanced in Europe, and the demand for them is increasing. The only way to account for this is to be looked for in the large speculative purchases of bonds by operators with small margins, all calulating on the increased demand from investers, either here or in Europe after the Presidential election, and the payments of coupons and dividends.

Stocks, although dull and lower at the early session, advanced about one per cent., and closed steadier. First-class stock houses are supplied with money at low rates, and are not forced to sell out their stocks. Express shares and Erie remain firmer than the rest.

Business is dull here, and money firm at 10 to 12 per cent.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz: Gold, 132¾; United States 1881s, 112¾; Five Twenties, '62, 106½; do '64, 105⅝; do '65s, 105¾; do new, 108; do; '67s, 108¼; do '68s, 109; Ten-Forties, 104; Silver, 120; Ohio & Mississippi Certificates, 29½; Western Union Telegraph, 35; New York Central, 122; Erie, 39; Reading, 94¾; Michigan Southern, 82¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 84¼; Chicago & Rock Island, 102½; Northern Western 84¼; do Preferred, 85; Fort Wayne & Chicago, 109½; Merchants Union Express, 20½; Adams; 46; Pacific Mail, 116; Quicksilver, 23¾.

—The Chicago Tribune, of Wednesday, says: The banks in general are feeling no particular pressure for money, though, as has been frequently noted before, they are taking none but first-class paper into consideration at all. Speculation in general is also being discouraged by bankers as much as possible, because it is apparent that the legitimate business will need all the help that the banking capital of the city can afford them when the packing season begins in earnest. As was noticed yesterday, some remittances of currency are already being made into the hog and cattle-raising districts of Southern Illinois, and these will undoubtedly increase, though the receipts of currency from the country northwest of this are still in excess of all the outflow to other quarters.

Exchange was sold between banks at 75c premium to-day, and still very firm. Rates at the counter were unchanged, bankers selling at 1-10 premium for New York funds, and taking at 1-10 off.

—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company announces a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent., clear of tax, payable in cash on the 13th inst.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.: Gold, 132¾; United States Sixes, 1881's, 113; 5-20's, 1862, 107½; 5-20's, 1864, 105; 5-20's, 1865, 105; 10-40's, 103; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 106½; 5-20's, January and July, '67 107½; '68, 107⅝; June 7-30's, par less ¼; July 7-30's, do ¼; August 119; Sept., 119; Oct. 118¼; Union Pacific Railroad, 102; Central, 103.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, November 5, 1868.

CATTLE.

There was a fair amount of Cattle in the pens, but mostly of a medium character, there being no choice western beeves on sale. Fair butchering Cattle brought good prices, but the lower grade were not looked after. The market was dull on account of the absence of eastern buyers. At the close there was a large number unsold, but buyers from the east were arriving, and the yards will, no doubt, be cleaned out by Friday noon. There has been no change to note in prices. Good bullocks, weighing from 1,000 to 1,200, may be quoted at $6,50 to $7,25 per head. The sales for the week were 1,318 head, (mostly on Friday last) against 1,278 head the previous week. We note sales as follows:

Holmes, Lafferty & Co. to W. H. Todd 4, weighing 4,075, at 6; same to same 3, weighing 2,400, at 5; same to A. M. Brown 2, weighing 1,900; same to Erisman 1, weighing 965, at 5,50; same to same 2, weighing 2,100, at 5,75; same to R. Childs 21, weighing 24,240, at 5,50; same to J. Klemen 33, weighing 41,175, at 6,70; same to same 13, weighing 14,275, at 5,62: Buford to same 28, weighing 33,475, at 7; G. Fenton to same 19, weighing 22,325, at 5,75; J. SHEEP.

The receipts of sheep are drooping off, but still fully adequate to the demand. Choice mutton, averaging 90 to 95 lbs, were selling at $3,50 to $4 per hundred. Holders of several lots were asking $4,25 per hundred. The sales reported on Friday last were 6,084 head. Sales to-day, 1,293 head at $3 to $4 per hundred. Total sales for the week 7,377 head, against 9,325 head the previous week. Prices are without change. We note sales as follows:

B. F. Davis of Kentucky to J. N. Pidcock 247, weighing 28,260 at $3,00; A. J. Barker to same 124, weighing 9,340 at 4,00; J. Rodger to G. R. Johnson 229 weighing 18,290 at 3,60.

HOGS.

There was a fair inquiry, and owing to light receipts prices were a little stiffer. The qualities offering are generally good, and as the season advances continue to be better from day to day. Prices, however, are considered far too high, and must decline. Our packers at present have no idea of making purchases unless there is a decline of at least $1,00 from the present rates. The sales since our report of last Friday foot up 4,808 head, at from $6,90 to $8,37 per 100 lbs. Sales reported on Friday 4,458 head. Total for the week 9,266 head against 9,568 head the previous week. The following are the reported sales:

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, November 5, 1868.

CRUDE.

The Crude market continues very quiet with a drooping tendency. We can report 1,000 bbls for November (40 to 45 gravity) at 11; and 1,000 for December same gravity, option and price. We heard of 45 gravity having been offered at 10¾, while spot oil 40 to 45 gravity, may be quoted at 11 to 11¼.

REFINED.

The market for Refined is also dull and weak, and compared with yesterday, prices are a shade lower. We can report 500 bbls for the last half of November at 28¼. 1,000 same delivery at 28¼; and 1,000 for December at 28. Last evening there was a sale of 1,500 bbls on spot at 28¼. The stringency in the money market tends very much to depress the oil market, by restricting speculation, and, as a consequence, lessening the demand.

NEW ENGLAND MILL GIRLS, MECHANICS AND SMALL FARMERS.

David McCrae, a Scotchman, who seems to be an acute observer and a fair thinker, in a communication to the Glasgow (Scotland) Herald, of the 22d of August, has the following estimate of New England prosperity and character:

Traveling through New England with its busy centres of population, its white towns and villages, its white churches, with white wooden spires, and its numberless white farm houses, specking the landscape, the eye is everywhere delighted with the evidence of universal comfort and prosperity. In some places I looked about in vain for any people wearing the appearance of our working and laboring classes at home. I went out one day from Boston to see the mills at Lawrence, where thirty-five thousand girls are employed. I saw thousands of them at their work, but could scarcely realize that this was their daily and hourly avocation. From the neatness of their attire, from their genteel appearance, their manners, their thoughtful and intelligent looks, I should have taken them to be young ladies of the middle class who had merely come to try their hands as amateurs. I could not but contrast them with the poor mill-girls at home that we see at meal hours swarming in our streets, bareheaded and barefooted even in wet and frosty weather. These girls at Lawrence and Lowell earn from eight to ten and a half dollars a week—an average of about thirty shillings—of which they pay about a third for board, in the comfortable houses provided for them. They dress well, as all Americans do, and yet accumulate money in the savings bank. As much as $28,500 was banked by the Lawrence girls on one monthly pay day. They are all educated. Many of them continue to attend evening classes, and some of them take lessons in French and music. They have a library and free reading room at the mill. I went into one of their libraries and found a catalogue of 5,000 books, 1,500 of which were out. In the reading room I found all the principal papers, one of them French. To see these girls coming in thousands from the mills at six o'clock, many of them with books in their hands, you would imagine them to be a congregation of young ladies coming from a meeting. One visitor who went to see this sight waited till the stream was past, and then said, "But where are the mill girls?"

I was struck with this superiority in the condition and status of the working classes all over New England. Speaking of it one day to Dr. Hopkins, of Northampton, Massachusetts, on whom I was calling, he said, "I will show you an illustration of it." He took me to his window and said, pointing across the road, "Do you see that white house among the trees?"

I looked and saw a genteel looking house, with its green lattices, its verandah adorned with creeping plants, and its orchard.

"That belongs to the blacksmith," said the doctor. "He owns his house and occupies it. He shoes my horses, and lives there like a gentleman, as he is.

"Do you see that house beyond," he continued; "that one with the large portico? There the carpenter stays; and the house and all that ground where you see the trees are his own. If there are any repairs to be attended to about my blinds, or shutters, or woodwork anywhere, he comes and attends to them. He is a working man, a laborer, and yet a gentleman." "Labor here," said the doctor, "is honorable, and the man who can turn his hand to most things generally gets on best, and, at least, always can get on."

He told me that when a lady friend from the South was on a visit to him, he said he would drive her to Hatfield, and show her where their laborers lived. On the way over he said: "What do you expect to see?" She said she supposed the houses were better than most of their negro cabins in the South. "Well," said the doctor, "you shall judge." He drove her across the beautiful Connecticut Valley, and entered Hatfield by a broad street, with long rows of elms, and with handsome white houses on each side, surrounded with orchards. The lady called his attention to some of these as they passed, admiring their elegance. "By the way," said the doctor, when they got to the end of the street, "I forgot to tell you that these are the laborers' houses!"

There can be no doubt that the condition of this class is very much better in America than with us, where the vast mass of the agricultural population hold their houses and farms at the will of another. The The smallest farmer in New England is independent. His house and land are his own. He is beholden to no one. He keeps his own horse, his cow, and his pigs, draws the manure over his own fields; plants and reaps his own crops; digs and hoes his own potatoes and turnips. Moreover, he is educated and well-informed, and his children are all at school. He reads the papers; he has the current literature of the day on his table; he knows what Gladstone and Disraeli are about here; he keeps himself well acquainted with home politics; he has a vote, and knows what to do with it; and can get up in the township meetings and express himself intelligibly if occasion calls for it. These men, after all, form the stamina and moral strength of the commonwealth.

The prosperity of New England cannot be owing to her soil. I had no idea that the land there was so barren. I passed over the great tracts of it where the soil was so thin and the ground so rocky that I began to believe the story about sharpening the sheep's noses to let them get at the blades of grass between the stones. It was such a continual source of wonder to come in such regions upon so many beautiful farm houses and little flourishing villages. But the people are active and thrifty; they labor with their own hands and waste nothing, are full of ingenuity and resource, and wring not only competence, but wealth out of the reluctant hand of Nature. A New Englander, if hard pushed, would make a living out of whinstones.

LIFE AMONG OUR ANCESTORS.

The customs, manners, literature, architecture, history, everything in fine pertaining to England, previous to the seventeenth century, may be regarded as the common ancestral property of all John Bull's progeny, wherever scattered over the world. To a large majority of our readers, therefore, whatever throws light upon the olden times of Great Britain can never cease to be of interest. The October New England Farmer, noticing a recent publication, "Our English Homes," extracts and comments as follows:

The whale was eaten by the Saxons; and when men were lucky enough to get it, it appeared at table late in the fifteenth century. In 1246 Henry III directed the Sheriff of London to purchase one hundred pieces of whale for his table. Whales found on the coast were prerequisite of royalty; they were cut up and sent to the king's kitchen in carts. Edward II gave a reward of twenty shilling to three mariners who caught a whale near London bridge. Those found on the banks of the Thames were claimed by the Lord Mayor, and added to the civic feast. Pieces of whale were often purchased in the thirteenth century for the table of the Countess of Leicester. England was supplied with this choice dainty by the fishermen of Normandy, who made it an article of commerce. The Normans had various ways of cooking it; sometimes it was roasted and brought to the table on a spit; but the usual way was to boil it and serve it with peas. Epicures looked out for a slice from the tongue or the tail. The grampus, or sea-wolf, was also highly esteemed; but of all the blubber dainties the porpois was deemed the most savory. The Saxons called it sea-swine, and the ecclesiastics of the middle ages porco marino. Porpoises were purchased for the table of Henry III, in 1246.

In the reign of Henry II. the whole stock of a carpenter's tools was valued at one shilling, and consisted of a broad-axe, an adze, a square and a spoke-shave! "There were very few chimneys; the fire was laid to the wall, and the smoke issued out at the roof, or door, or window, and the furniture and utensils were of wood. The people slept on straw pallets, with a log of wood for a pillow." Even as late as the time of Elizabeth, 1558, it is stated that apologies were made to visitors if they could not be accommodated in rooms provided with chimneys. They had few glass windows and when glass was introduced, it was for a long time so scarce, that when people went away, they would order the windows taken out and laid up in safety.

In the fourteenth century, none but the clergy wore linen. The household furniture among the wealthy, consisted of an occasional, a brass pot, a brass cup, a gridiron, and a rug or two, and perhaps a towel. Of chairs and tables we hear nothing. Even the nobility sat upon the chests in which they kept their clothes. If a man in seven years after marriage could purchase a flock bed and a sack of chaff to rest his head upon, he thought himself as well lodged as the lord of the town.

In addition to this poverty of what seems to us absolute necessities, the houses and the people were exceedingly dirty. Erasmus, a celebrated scholar of Holland, who once visited England, complains that "the nastiness of the people was the cause of the frequent plagues which destroyed them;" and he says their floors are commonly of clay, strewed with rushes, under which lie unmolested a collection of beer, grease, fragments, bones, spittle, excrements of dogs and cats, and everything that is nauseous.

Their tables were as miserably supplied as ther dwellings. They had little fresh meat, but salted most of their cattle and swine in November, upon which they mostly depended during the winter. Very few vegetables of any kind came upon their tables. It is stated that in the early part of the reign of Henry VIII. not a cabbage, turnip, carrot or other edible root grew in England.

The average duration of human life was, at that period, not one half as long as at the present day. The constant use of salted meat, and few or no vegetables, contributed to the shortening of life, to say nothing of the large number swept away by pestilence and famine.

---

THE New York Sun has the authority of the Hon. John H. McCunn, one of the Justices of the Superior Court of that city, for saying that the number of naturalizations of aliens which have been effected in that city in the past few weeks is between forty and fifty thousand. McCunn himself naturalized thirty thousand in the Superior Court. He was able to accomplish so much of this work by sitting at it from nine in the morning to midnight each day, while the other Courts gave only one or two hours a day to it.

IT IS stated that President Johnson has lost twenty-one pounds of flesh since he became President. That is not quite two pounds a veto.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Rivers are falling.

The Night Schools in the two cities are well attended. A very good sign.

Twenty-First and Twenty-third streets in the Twelfth ward are being paved.

The Pan Handle Railroad wall which fell a few weeks ago, is being rebuilt.

Penn street is being cleaned of its muddy coat, for the seventh time this season.

On our rounds yesterday we noticed a sign over a drinking saloon which read "Do-drop-in."

The newsboys have monopolized the trade in Salt river tickets. They seem to be doing pretty well.

The work of laying the Nicolson pavement on Second avenue will probably be finished this week.

Police business is exceedingly dull in Allegheny. The police are suffering from a lack of excitement.

Tickets for the Hanlon exhibition are sold only at Miner's Bookstore, Fifth avenue, next to the Postoffice.

The laying of the new Oakland water main has progressed as far as the Fourteenth Ward School House.

It is rumored that a minstrel troupe is negotiating for a lease of the Old Pittsburgh Theatre, with the intention of settling here.

Weather Prophets are predicting a very hard winter to come. They have done this every year within the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

The "Post" Roosters—the pictorial Democracy—were out yesterday. Most of them, however, faithful representations of the party, were upside down.

The Allegheny Park Bonds are excellent investments, sound, safe, reliable and paying seven per cent. interest. Capitalists would do well to invest in them.

Passed Through.—Gen. Grant arrived at the Union Depot yesterday afternoon, on the 4:10 train. He stopped but a few minutes, taking the first train for the east.

We notice a new style of collar, which is being extensively worn by the ladies. It is made of linen and trimmed with Valenciennes lace—we believe that's the name of the thing. It is very pretty.

The Square of the Allegheny Park between Federal and Sandusky streets has been fenced in, the walks covered with gravel and a number of trees planted, which materially improves its appearance.

Park Ornamentation.—Wm. Boyd, Esq., of Allegheny, has been granted the privilege of ornamenting, at his own expense, the triangular plot in the Allegheny Park, located at the southeast corner of Montgomery avenue and Sandusky street.

Bawdy House.—Dennis Breen made information before Alderman McMasters, yesterday, against Mrs. Kate Divine, for keeping a bawdy house on Foster's alley. The accused was arrested and committed to jail for a hearing this afternoon at three o'clock.

The Cathedral Cross.—A proposition has been received from R. M. Farmer, of Boston, who has a patent for lighting by electricity, to furnish the necessary apparatus for the proposed new cross on the Cathedral, for $5,000. The answer of the Cathedral authorities has not been received yet.

Stay at Home.—Home manufactures should always have the preference if they will compare in price and quality to those of foreign importation. It is a well attested fact that the articles manufactured at the Keystone Pottery, Messrs. Kier & Co., for elegance and beauty of finish and price, will compare more than favorably with the best goods in this line which have heretofore been imported.

Held to Bail.—William Pickle, a sour individual residing in Lower St. Clair township, was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery on oath of Joseph Fisher, before Justice Ammen, who held him to bail in the sum of three hundred dollars for his appearance at court. The prosecutor alleges that the accused attacked and beat Mrs. Fisher, the wife of deponent, during his absence.

Perjury.—Fred. Humphrey, of Lower St. Clair township, made information before Justice Arumon, yesterday, charging Jacob Hemmington with perjury. He alleges that the accused presented himself at the polls in Lower St. Clair township to vote, and when his vote was challenged he swore that he had paid taxes within two years, which the prosecutor alleges is false. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Alleged Larceny.—Hugh Dillingham made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters against Mrs. C. Jones for larceny. Dillingham is employed in the Kensington Iron Mills in the Sixth ward, and is a friend of the Jones'. Yesterday he states that he went into their house, and laid down to take a rest, and while lying on the lounge Mrs. Jones robbed his pocket of five dollars. The accused was arrested and gave bail for a hearing.

Assault and Battery.—Eliza Arnold made information before Justice Ammon yesterday, charging Bertha Detrich with assault and battery. Miss Arnold resides in East Birmingham, and Bertha, it appears, was employed by her as "maid of all work," and for some reason she became dissatisfied with her situation and quarrelled with her mistress. Hard words passed between them and Bertha finally struck Mrs. Arnold. A warrant was issued for her arrest.

Elders Ordained.—The following gentlemen, having been elected unanimously to the office of Ruling Elder in the First Reformed Presbyterian Church, were ordained and installed yesterday: Messrs. R. C. Miller, James Dickson, F. R. McCutcheon and Dugald Munn. Rev. Robert Stevenson preached a sermon in the morning, and the pastor, Rev. John Douglas, D. D., conducted the ordination services in the afternoon in the presence of quite a large congregation.

The Ewalt Street Bridge.—The progress of improvements in our city is astonishing. As our readers will recollect, the Legislature passed an act incorporating a company for the purpose of erecting a bridge over the Allegheny river from Ewalt street, Lawrenceville, now the Seventeenth ward, to Millvale borough. Some thirty thousand dollars of stock has already been subscribed, and the balance can readily be taken up. The books remain open at the office of Messrs. Sill & Shutterly, Butler street.

Speaker Colfax in Town.

Speaker Colfax arrived at the Union Depot in the 7:30 train from Chicago last evening. He was met at the depot and escorted by General Moorhead to his residence, where a number of prominent citizens, irrespective of party politics, had assembled to pay him their respects. An hour or two was passed by agreeably in social conversation, when the company sat downto a bountiful repast, which was followed by toast, speech and song. At a late hour the gathering was broken up and the participants wended their ways homeward, each bearing pleasant recollections of his meeting with the distinguished statesman. Mr. Colfax left the city in the Eastward bound train at three o'clock yesterday morning.

FIRE MARSHAL'S INVESTIGATION.

The Incendiary Fire at Bell's Trunk Factory—Partial Hearing in the Case of Prout and Graham.

A hearing in the case of Charles Prout and Thomas Graham, charged with setting fire to Bell's Trunk Factory, which was partially burned on the 15th ult., took place yesterday. We stated the facts leading to the arrest and the circumstances connected with the fire, some days since, but deem it necessary to give a recapitulation of them, as follows:

The Fire Marshal in the course of his investigation it appears, obtained information which lead him to suspect Barney Duffy, an Irishman, formerly employed in the trunk factory, as the guilty party, and he issued a warrant for his arrest. Officers McCready and McMullen, of the city police, were entrusted with the warrant, and arrested Duffy at McKeesport, on Sunday last; brought him to the city, when he was confined in the lock-up to await a hearing. Monday morning Duffy sent for the Chief of Police, to whom he made a statement implicating Prout and Graham, and upon this statement they were arrested.

THE HEARING.

The hearing took place at the Mayor's office at four o'clock yesterday, when the Commonwealth was represented by Assistant District Attorney Flack, assisted by R. J. Powers and John Coyle, Esqs., who appeared in the interest of Duffy, the principal witness, R. M. Gibson and John C. Taylor, Esqrs., appearing for the defense.

The Fire Marshal, Mr. Murphy, called the accused and stated the charges against them, and asked them if they had counsel, to which they replied in the affirmative.

John Irwin, Chief of Police, was then sworn, and testified to what Duffy had told him relative to the affair, and said that it was upon his statement he had arrested Prout and Graham.

Barney Duffy, sworn—I know the defendants, Prout and Graham; have been acquainted with Prout about two months; we boarded at the same house, and with Graham about three weeks; Graham worked at Bell's Trunk Factory; he had been working there about three weeks previous to the fire. I saw Prout after the fire. I went to Shaffer's shop, where Prout worked, on Monday after the fire, but he was excited and would not talk to me; he promised to come to my boarding house in the evening. After supper he came and we went out together; after walking some distance he, Prout, said he had done it; I then gave him five dollars and told him that Bell would settle with him when he got his insurance. I gave him the candles and he was to fix two of them in a box so that the fire would not break out until he could have time to get away; the candles were cut in two and placed in the box with pine sticks and shavings; after I gave the money to Prout we came up street together, and on the corner we met Mr. Lindsley, who spoke to Prout and said he would like to have the five hundred dollars reward offered for the arrest of the man who burned Bell's factory; I saw Graham previous to the fire; he was to set fire to the building up stairs, while Prout was to kindle the fire in the cellar; Graham said he would do it; he saw Bell in my presence, and the matter was arranged; he asked me if I thought Bell would stand up to his bargain.

In the cross examination the witness made several conflicting statements and refused to answer a number of questions which if answered in the affirmative would have convicted him.

The prosecution here closed and the defense called two or three witnesses, among whom were the father and mother of Graham, who both testified that he (Graham) was at home on the night of the fire, that he came home at six o'clock and was not out of the house again during the night. The other testimony taken was merely corroborative of this statement.

Owing to the lateness of the hour the hearing closed to be resumed at nine o'clock this morning.

As the matter will doubtless be fully investigated, we refrain from any comments at present, but shall take opportunity at some future day to speak of facts which have transpired in the case and which will doubtless be more fully developed when the case reaches the Quarter Sessions.

U. S. Court—Before Judge M'Candless.

Court opened at ten o'clock yesterday morning. The case of the United States vs. WM. H. Wilson, indicted for embezzling letters from the mail, while in his charge as clerk of the steamboat Elisha Bennett, was fixed for trial in the morning. An important witness for the prosecution was absent, and the case was therefore deferred.

The case of Edward Frazier, indicted for exercising the business of distiller without payment of special tax, and with setting up stills without permit. The defendant resided in Butler county, and the distillery was located upon his farm in that county. The defendant's counsel admitted the facts that the building was erected for and used as a distillery, and that it had been operated, and that some low wines offered in evidence had been found on the premises. The defense claimed, however, that the distillery was owned by Washington Frazier, son of the defendant, and had been operated by him. It was further contended that the defendant was in no way connected with the distillery, and further that for two years previous to the seizure, the establishment had not been operated. The jury found a verdict of not guilty.

On motion of Hon. John M. Kirkpatrick, Walter L. Graham, Esq., was duly admitted and qualified to practice in this Court.

In the bankruptcy branch a petition for adjudication was filed by Chas. De Knight, of Pittsburgh.

Gideon Morrow plead guilty to a charge of illicit distilling, and was sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars, the cost of prosecution, and to undergo twenty-four hours imprisonment in the county jail.

THE MAIL ROBBERY CASE.

Yesterday afternoon the case of Wm. H. Wilson, charged with embezzling a letter from the mails and concealing and destroying the same, was taken up. The defendant was employed as a second clerk on one of the Monongahela river packets carrying the mails. It was alleged that in July last the defendant secreted and embezzled a registered letter addressed to Harper & Brothers, New York, containing United States notes and currency to the amount of $3,50. The letter was mailed at Monongahela City. It was further alleged that a letter had been abstracted from the mail, which had been mailed at Bellevernon, Pa., and addressed to A. C. Nott, Uniontown. The letter contained $24,50. Letters addressed to A. A. Anderson & Sons, and Mr. M'Cullough, of Pittsburgh, and several others, were also alleged to have been stolen.

The defendant was arraigned and plead not guilty. Colonel R. Biddle Roberts appeared on behalf of the defense, and District Attorney Carnahan for the Government. District Attorney Carnahan opened the case for the prosecution, and after citing the law upon which the indictment was based, he referred to the allegations which the prosecution expected to prove. He stated that evidence would be offered to show that at the time these letters were mailed the defendant was second clerk on the steamboat Elisha Bennett, plying between Pittsburgh and Geneva. That in addition to his duties as clerk he assumed certain duties in regard to carrying the mail for extra compensation. It would also be shown that the letters failed to reach their destination, and that they were lost while in the possession or under the care of defendant. The evidence, he also stated, would be mainly circumstantial.

The first witness called was Isabella McCullough. This witness testified as follows: Reside at Jefferson, Greene county, Pa. In April and May last discharged the duties of the Postmistress at that place. E. H. Denny had charge of the office. In his absence a letter was registered addressed to Walpole, Indiana, May 6th, 1868. The letter was brought by Mr. D. Shroy. [Registered letter bill produced and identified by witness as the one sent to the Pittsburgh distributing office.] The letter was sealed when brought to the office, and was addressed to J. H. Thomas, Walpole, Indiana; the registered package was mailed by me and left the office; if there are several registered letters they are put in separate packages; Jefferson Postoffice is four miles from the river; the mail was conveyed to Rice's Landing in a coach and there taken on a steamboat. [A registered envelope produced and recognized as similar to those used.]

On cross examination the witness stated that she had not seen the contents of the letter.

The Postmaster at Scenery Hill testified to having mailed a registered letter to Pittsburgh, directed to A. A. Anderson & Sons, which did not reach its destination. The Postmaster at Brownsville testified that the letter had reached his office in safety, and was by him placed in the river mail pouch for this city.

The case is still on trial.

"The United Presbyterian."

This excellent religious cotemporary comes to us this week greatly enlarged. This is the third time it has been enlarged, in as many years, and it affords us much pleasure to have the opportunity of congratulating its enterprising editors and proprietors, Dr. D. R. Kerr and H. J. Murdoch, Esq., on their continued prosperity. Dr. Kerr, the editor-in-chief, has been long and favorably known in this community as one of the ablest and most accomplished religious journalists, as well as an upright christian gentleman. Our friend, Mr. H. J. Murdoch, in addition to his editorial labors, runs the business department of the establishment, and all who know him will readily admit that he is "the right man in the right place." This, the continued prosperity of the paper abundantly testifies. These gentlemen are ably assisted by a large corps of contributors and correspondents in these cities, and different parts of the country, and give their readers a first-class religious paper.

The Presbyterian Witness, of Cincinnati, has been merged in the United Presbyterian, a circumstance which adds materially to its already large circulation, and recommends it more than ever to the mercantile community as an advertising medium. It has a very extensive circulation in these cities, Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio, and is one of the best advertising mediums which is furnished by the weekly press. The price of the paper is extremely low for a journal of its merits.

The Allegheny Riot—Hearing Postponed.

Chas. McGill was arrested on Thursday evening, charged with participation in the riot in the Second ward, Allegheny, on last Monday evening. A cap, which has been identified as the one worn by McGill, was found on the sidewalk after the fight was over. This circumstance, in connection with others, of a suspicious character, led to his arrest. A hearing was to have been had in the case yesterday morning, but owing to the critical condition of Mr. Bothwell, the injured party, it was deemed inadvisable to proceed with the hearing at the appointed time and it was postponed. The Mayor has declined to admit any of the parties to bail, and they have all been remanded to jail. Mr. Bothwell's condition was improved a little last evening, and there is now a probability that he will recover.

Relieved of His Watch.

Robert Dilworth, Esq., clerk of the Allegheny Common Councils, was relieved of his watch yesterday afternoon while attending a sale in one of our auction houses. The thief who performed the operation did it by twisting off the article from the chain, leaving that appendage hanging by the hook in the button-hole of the victim's vest. The watch was a silver one, but was prized above its intrinsic value because of its being a gift from a deceased brother. No trace of the thief could be discovered, and it is probable that he will never be captured.

Let Us Be Friends.

One of the most pleasant and enjoyable affairs it has been our privilege to participate in, which was in any manner connected with politics, took place last evening at Mr. Robert Campbell's saloon, on Liberty street, near Wood.

Mr. Campbell, who is a strong Republican, it seems, has a number of Democratic friends, to whom he desired to extend his hospitality before their departure to the saline regions, and for that purpose prepared a repast to which he invited not only his Democratic friends, but a number of Republicans.

His spacious dining rooms were elegantly and tastefully decorated with flags, evergreens, etc., and a large portrait of the President elect, occupied a prominent place in the hall. A table extended the full length of the spacious dining room, upon which was spread a most sumptuous and bounteous repast.

When the invited guests had all assembled, the meeting was organized by calling John Shipton, Esq., to the Chair. Mr. Shipton in a brief and appropriate address thanked the company for the honor done him, and after briefly stating the object of the meeting, invited the guests to be seated at the table.

When all were provided with seats Mr. John Torly called Mr. Campbell to the head of the table, and introduced him to Mr. W. A. Taylor, who, he said, would speak on behalf of the Democratic party.

Mr. Taylor then, in a few well timed remarks, acknowledged the defeat of the party, thanked Mr. Campbell for the interest he manifested in his defeated friends, and as a token of their appreciation presented to him a live rooster, which he drew from beneath his coat.

Mr. Campbell accepted the chicken, and gracefully acknowledged the gift.

The supper was then discussed with a relish which did credit to the host. After this came the wine, with its usual accompaniments of jest, song and witty savings. Several toasts were proposed and all present appeared to enjoy themselves to the fullest extent.

Politics were entirely ignored, and when any allusion was made to General Grant it was not as the candidate of any party, but as the peoples President, and Democrats, as well as Republicans, joined in the wish that we might have peace and a desire that we might again be friends.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Miss Western appeared in two pieces last night, "The Actress of Padua" and "Pet of the Petticoats." There was a very fair attendance and the performance elicited the favorable commendation of all. To-night she takes a benefit, on which occasion the celebrated military drama of "The French Spy" will be presented, the fair actress performing in three characters. She will also appear in the musical farce of "Jenny Lind," which concludes the programme. These two attractions will doubtless secure a full house.

THE MUSEUM.—Major Burnell seems determined to make this establishment fully abreast of the times. Yesterday he started eastward for the purpose of securing new attractions for the holiday season. The Museum is open day and night.

MASONIC HALL.—The famous Morris Brothers' Minstrel Troupe, which was so popular here last winter, will commence a short engagement in Masonic Hall on Monday evening next. Judging from the enthusiasm with which they were received here at their previous engagements, we have no doubt the mere announcement of their reappearance will be sufficient to insure them a hearty welcome.

THE "DIORAMA."—The "Diorama" opens in Excelsior Hall, Allegheny, this evening, instead of opening last evening, as had been announced. Entertainments of this charater have heretofore been very popular in this city, and from a knowledge of this fact we expect a crowded house tonight. The price of admission is but twenty-five cents, which places it within the reach of all.

THE HANLON BROTHERS.—These world-renowned acrobats and gymnasts, open a brief engagement at the Academy of Music on Monday evening, the 9th inst. They are accompanied by the daring Russian, Pfau, whose performance on the trapeze have been the admiration of all beholders. As this is the farewell tour of the troupe those of our readers who desire to witness their remarkable performances, should bear in mind the time and place, as no other opportunity to see them may ever be afforded.

BENEFIT OF THE ROMAN FATHER.—Monday evening next has been set apart for a benefit to William C. Gallaher—better known as the "Roman Father," on which occasion he will appear in his inimitable and unapproachable personation of the character of "Virginius." We have heard of men in olden times turning their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks; but what was that compared with the alacrity and ease with which the "Father" gives up the exciting scenes and turmoil of the political campaign just closed and enters upon the more peaceful walks and avocations of the stage. His friends should see to it, that his benefit yields him a bountiful supply of greenbacks.

Judge Williams's Acceptance.

The following is the text of the letter from Judge Williams to Governor Geary, accepting the appointment as one of the Judges of the Supreme Court:

PITTSBURGH, October 24, 1868.

To His Excellency John W. Geary, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

DEAR SIR—As signified by my dispatch of the 21st inst., from Mount Morris, New York, I have concluded, after much anxious consideration, to accept the appointment "to be a Judge of the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Hon. William Strong, one of the Judges of the said Court," which your Excellency has been pleased to tender me. The delay in its acceptance has arisen from no want of appreciation of the importance and dignity of the office, but circumstances over which I have had no control, and of which your Excellency has been advised, have prevented an earlier decision. Trusting that the public interests have suffered no serious inconvenience by the delay, and thanking your Excellency for your very kind letter accompanying my commission, I am with great respect, very truly, your obedient servant, H. W. WILLIAMS.

Street Railway Obstructed.

The sewer improvements on Federal street, Allegheny, will necessitate the removal of a portion of the Troy Hill Passenger Railway at the corner of Ohio and Federal streets, which will somewhat interfere with the running of the cars on the road. Superintendent Kountz, however, has made arrangements to put a larger number of cars on the Western Avenue line, which will make close connections with the Troy Hill cars running from the point named to the stables beyond Chestnut street. An additional force of workmen will be put to work on the sewer, and it is expected that it can be pushed forward so rapidly by this means as to prove an obstruction but for a few days. It is already completed to within a short distance of Ohio street.

In Search of a Sister.

Jerry Foley, a resident of West Virginia, arrived in this city last evening in search of his sister-in-law, Mary Foley, who resides in Kittanning, but has recently been on a visit to her sister, in West Virginia. Mr. Foley stopped at the Mayor's office and made inquiry for Mary, stating that he had been robbed of nine hundred dollars, and he had reason to believe that Mary had taken the money. During her stay the money was in the house, and it was not missed until after she had taken her departure. Officer M'Mullen took the case in hand and will "work it up."

Popular Delusions.

There is a popular delusion (and one that is very humiliating to Americans,) that Americans, as a class, are unable to appreciate excellence in art, or highly finished work exhibiting rare mechanical skill. There is another idea prevalent which is equally erroneous, to-wit: That American manufacturers and American artisans have neither the ability to conceive nor the skill to accomplish work equally as durable and fine as the products of foreign countries. Very little reflection is sufficient to correct these opinions, which are injurious in their effects. The amount of money annually expended by Americans on works of art alone has been the source of wonder to those foreigners best informed on art topics. With comparatively little knowledge, certainly with a tithe of the experience possessed by Europeans, we have not only held our own with them in the manufacture of various articles, but, in a number of instances excelled them. The only, and perhaps the greatest drawback Americans have to contend with, is the universal scramble for riches. Pursuing wealth, excellence becomes secondary. Did the European manufacturers pursue a similar course, the chances are that American manufacturers would drive their wares out of the American market, and in nothing but the difference in the degree of population and the abundance of labor would prevent American wares from finding purchasers in foreign countries.

There is still another delusion, namely, that everything imported is superior to home manufactures. A large proportion of the articles imported will not bear comparison with our own productions. Every well informed man or woman is well aware of this fact. A vast amount of tawdry, imperfect, meretricious work is sold in this country as "first-class," which would not find a ready sale abroad. These are purchased by the ignorant. In the manufacture of printing presses, locomotives, glassware, and in various other branches we have proved that we can excel in excellence when we are determined to do so. Notwithstanding the fact that at the present time a large portion of the stained, ground and enameled glass consumed in this country is imported, it is among the impossibilities that American manufacturers will revolutionize the entire business. Any one who who will take the trouble to examine the specimens of stained, ground and enameled glass made by Messrs. Page, Zellers & Duff, (glass manufacturers,) No. 6 Wood street, will agree with us that more uniform, finer, softer, or better toned colors; or more natural, easy, flowing designs, it would be dificult to find. This is especially true of those specimens in which a variety of colors are displayed. The portion of the stained glass we have examined, is perfectly smooth, retaining the high polish secured in the flattening oven. This firm is destined to play an important part in the movement which will place the business of glass staining upon a basis that will resist all foreign competetion. Their facilities for manufacturing, as well as staining and enameling glass, enables them to procure a large amount of work without incurring the delays heretofore experienced by parties engaged in glass staining alone. "Excellence" is the first object aimed at. This fact alone warrants the belief that they will be successful in their new enterprise.
